NEWS FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Stoelting has acquired the product lines of Trek Industries. This agreement was finalized effective 2-1-05. Trek Industries, established in 1976 and located in Azusa, California, is a recognized leader in cleaning systems for electronic, medical, precision, and industrial applications. Manufacturing functions will move to the Stoelting facility in Kiel, Wisconsin, while an office will be maintained in Southern California.

This new addition will broaden the product line Stoelting offers to the cleaning market. The wide variety of quality equipment combined with our many years of experience offers increased flexibility in providing a cost effective solution to your cleaning needs. With the diversity we offer, be assured we have a cleaning system ideally suited for your parts cleaning application.

Established in 1905, Stoelting is a leading supplier of stainless steel constructed cleaning equipment for general industrial operations, such as machining and stamping, electronics assembly and semiconductor packaging, bottle washing, and other varied industries.

Visit the Stoelting website: www.stoelting.com, or the Trek website: www.trekindustries.com for additional information.
